

AS and A-Level OCR Biology A

4.1.1 Communicable diseases, disease prevention and the immune system	The different types of pathogen that can cause communicable diseases in animals The means of transmission of animal communicable pathogens The primary non-specific defences against pathogens in animals The principles of vaccination and the role of vaccination programmes in the prevention of epidemics The benefits and risks of using antibiotics to manage bacterial infection
--	--