Data Protection Notice

This privacy notice explains how Queen Mary University of London (QMUL) collects and uses personal data of people who applying for this Summer School. It is in addition to QMUL's Data Protection Policy.

Why are you asking me for this? We are collecting this information to process applications and make sure the candidates are suitable and meet the selection criteria.

What will you do with my data? We will store this information on a secure database until the end of the Summer School. In the short term, we will use it to help us assess if you meet the selection criteria. Unsuccessful applicant's data will be deleted at the end of the application process. Successful applicant's data will be used to monitor attendance during the Summer School. We won't ever use your data to send you 'spam' emails.

Who will you share it with? No-one outside of the application process.

Will my data be safe? Yes, very safe. There are strict laws to make sure that we protect your personal details; we comply with the Data Protection Act and as of May 2018 the General Data Protection Regulation.

Can I change my mind? Yes. You have the right to ask us to delete your data at any time, just email youthmembers@centreofthecell.org to do this. You also have the right to ask us what data we hold about you.

I'm still not sure... Please ask us about anything that concerns you or that is unclear. If you are really not comfortable with sharing your data, that is completely fine. You can still participate in our activities.

- I agree for my data to be used as described above.
- I do not agree for my data to be used
